War Secretary Declines To Order Military Rule In Mountain Battle Zone

Federal Government Not Disposed to Anticipate Trouble, His Stand.

MORE MILITIAMEN READY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The federal government is not disposed to declare martial law and employ regular troops in the Mingo county, W. Va., strike region merely to anticipate a situation that may get beyond the control of the state authorities, Secretary Weeks declared today. Although he had telegrams from the governors of both West Virginia and Kentucky asking for federal troops and promulgation of the proclamations signed by President Harding declaring martial law, Mr. Weeks said latest reports to the War Department indicated the situation was more quiet. Firing practically had ceased, he said, and no one had been killed or wounded for two or three days.

Kentucky has 800 state troopers and large numbers of special officers have been sworn in both states. It is true that West Virginia has no state troops but the forces on spot seem to have the situation well in hand. It will be time to take so serious a step as declaration of martial law when the situation becomes more serious than it is now.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 17.—Preparations are being made here to anticipate any untoward activities on the Mingo fighting front. Thursday, May 10, the anniversary of the battle of Mingo, 1920, in which 10 persons were killed, including the mayor of the town and seven detectives.

Although hostilities have ceased practically on the West Virginia-Kentucky border, activities are increasing behind the battle lines, according to reports. Since the cessation of fighting last Saturday, it became known in county authorities said, attacking parties entrenched in the fastnesses of the mountains which flank the Mingo river fighting front have been preparing for further activities.

The state police have been stationed at strategic points throughout the fighting zone and ready for renewal of the firing, which is said to have cost the lives of several persons and the wounding of many others. In the meantime, officials of Mingo county have sent repeated petitions to Governor Morgan to urge that federal troops be sent into the district and martial law be declared in the affected territory.

Quiet prevailed this morning throughout the fighting front, according to reports. Firing was reported at Mingo, W. Va., last night, Captain Brooks of the state police said, the shots coming from the Kentucky hills, but no one was injured.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 17.—Declaring he can and will preserve order on the Kentucky side of the West Virginia-Kentucky border, Governor Morrow today is awaiting a reply from Washington, relative to his request last night.

"I wish to make it plain," the governor said, "that the trouble is in West Virginia. We have peace officers and troops doing duty in Pike county, Ky., who can prevent outbreaks from coming over into Kentucky and shelling back across the border, but our troops cannot cross the border and prevent disorders in West Virginia."

The arrival in the trouble zone today of additional state troops will augment the two detachments that have been there for the past few days. The governor yesterday ordered a number of militiamen to join the troops already in service.

COMMENT ON DRAFT LISTS SURPRISING TO WAR DEPARTMENT

"Constant Fire of Criticism" Over Publication Is Entirely Unexpected.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The War Department issued a statement today expressing surprise at the "constant fire of domestic criticism" which followed its action in publishing lists of drafters from the draft as shown by the department's records. In spite of the urgency of "patriotic societies and the relatives of men who did their full duty and who in many cases gave up their lives in the service that the slacker list be given out," the statement said, "it is now insisted that the lists should never have been published at all until the department was absolutely convinced that there appeared thereon the name of no man who actually rendered either military or naval service during the World War."

"As a matter of fact," it continued, "the War Department would have been entirely warranted in including the published lists of men charged with desertion from the draft the name of every registrant who failed to report for military service at the time and place specified in the notice sent by his local board whether or not he subsequently served honorably in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps of the United States or military forces of the allied powers."

John Barleycorn Proves Downfall of Uniontown Barber

Clyde Sheets, Uniontown barber, attended Sunday school and paid toward the support of his child, in the custody of his divorced wife, a resident of Cleveland, but he failed to keep away from the drinking bowl, as the court had ordered in giving him restricted freedom, after conviction of complicity with two others, in a robbery at Fayette City.

This morning, after a report by Probation Officer C. W. Baer that Sheets had been intoxicated several times lately, the court sentenced him to 18 months in the Allegheny county work-house. As a result of drinking, the probation officer said, Sheets had lost his job. He had paid his former wife $175 and was well-behaved otherwise, according to the probation officer's report.

Use of Spare Hours Places W. A. Boring Among Legal Lights

William A. Boring, whom the late Supreme Court Justice S. Louis More pronounced the peer of law librarians in the state of Pennsylvania, was this morning admitted to practice law in Fayette county. The procedure was an unusual one.

Boring, who has been law librarian of the Fayette county court since 1908 and who before that time, back to 1903 had been a tipstaff, had during his spare time applied himself to a course of law which has made him eligible to practice before the county bar.

BLOOD CHILD FIRST

Supreme Court So Decides in Westmoreland County Controversy.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The Supreme court Monday affirmed the judgment of the Orphans' court of Westmoreland county in the estate of James K. Boyd. The appeal was by David Miller, guardian of Oliver Boyd and Jean Eleanor Boyd, adopted minor children of the deceased.

The question to be decided was whether a child adopted after the making of a will by the adopting father has similar rights in his estate to a child actually born to him after the making of the will. The lower court decided in the negative and the Supreme court also took that view.

Oil Prices Drop.

EXPENSES ALL BUT WIPE OUT REVENUES WILLARD ASSERTS

Net Railroad Proceeds Reduced From Five Per Cent to Two-Hundredths.

STILL HE IS OPTIMISTIC

Confidence Expressed at Hearing Before Senate Committee That Private Ownership Will Work Out Under Present Law and Government Policy.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Continuing his testimony today before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee on the railroad situation, Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, read into the records a table to show that since 1912 there had been steady increase in the ratio of operating expenses to net revenues. The return on property values at the same time, he said, had declined from an average of approximately five per cent up to 1917 to 32-100 of one per cent in 1920 and 2-100 of one per cent in February, 1921.

"Notwithstanding there had been a constant but slight decrease in the rate per ton mile on traffic handled and gradual increase in prices of commodities and rate of pay," Mr. Willard said, "there was no abnormal change in net revenues and the operating ratio averaged about 70 per cent for the period of 1912 to 1915, inclusive. Due, however, to increase in taxes and continued expenditures of additional capital the return on property values during the same period declined."

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Private ownership of railroads cannot continue if railroad operating costs, when fair return on capital is considered, continue to exceed revenues, Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, testified Monday before a Senate investigating committee.

At the same time, Willard said the railroad situation, insofar as a depression and lack of earnings were concerned, differed "only in degree" from that now being encountered in other industries. General economic conditions and the difficulties encountered in federal war-time operation of the carriers, he added, were in his opinion largely responsible for present difficulties, and he expressed confidence that private ownership would justify itself financially and work out under present law and government policy.

MAY 30 AT CONFLUENCE

At 1 o'clock there will be a baseball game, if it can be arranged.

BULLDOG KILLED

Animal Had Adopted New Home and Refused to Leave Porell.

Patrolman P. M. Rull killed a bulldog which this morning adopted a West Side family and refused to leave the premises. A call came to the police station from a woman who said she wanted a dog killed, declaring the animal on her front porch did not go along to her and that it would not be away.

The officer found a big bulldog holding away on the front porch. The woman said she had tried to frighten him away with a club and had thrown water on him but that he would not move. The dog was not injured in any way. The officer could not get it off the porch and had to kill it where it stood.

Has Written an Epochal Story

Irving Bacheller

The value of the conscience of the nation stands in the works of the author, in "A Man for the Ages," his great narrative of the growth and development of the American character. It is the chief character, Mr. Bacheller has succeeded because of his familiarity with the fundamental of American life—American life as it is exemplified by the makers of America. It is the most appealing picture of Lincoln and of the time beginning somewhat before the middle of the last century and extending to about 1860, that has ever been penned. While from its interest as a novel and its value as a document of American life, it is a distinct contribution to literature embodying human nature and human interest. "A Man for the Ages" starts as a serial in The Courier today and you are exhorted not to miss a line of it.

Visit of Colonel

Stanyon Delayed; Others to Be Here

Because of a call requiring his presence elsewhere, Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Stanyon of the Salvation Army headquarters in Pittsburgh will be unable to come to Connellsville Saturday. In his stead Major Arthur Hopkins will be here. He will be assisted by Staff Captain A. P. Storey, secretary to the colonel, and Adjutant William Hickey, Adjutant A. Gesser, Captain Fred Nathan and Ensign Jack Grace.

The officers will hold services in the Salvation Army hall Sunday evening and all day Sunday. Sunday evening, "Glorious" little son of Adjutant and Mrs. John Campbell, heads of the work here, will be dedicated to the Salvation Army cause. Local minor officers will be commissioned. Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock Captain Storey, who is general secretary of young people's work in the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia district, will hold a special service at the hall for young people.

It is expected that Colonel Stanyon and Mrs. Stanyon will come at a later date.

Admiral Kolchak failed to redeem Russia from the bolsheviki, but he made a brave effort, and for a time held the world's attention as the hope and pride of a triumph for sanity and constitutionalism over the mad dog of Lenin and his proletarian dictatorship.

The chance to win such fame as will reflect his memory in the annals of Russia he owed to an American admiral.

And this is the story:

Front Cover of New Bell Directory Causes Comment

Connellsville citizens are "up in arms" over the fact that the Bell Telephone company's latest directory published semi-annually and distributed to every subscriber in this city and suburbs, carries on the front page the caption "Uniontown and Vicinity."

The game of the First City of Fayette is not mentioned on the cover although the book contains the names of hundreds of subscribers. A number of business firms have signified their intention of filing formal complaints with the company and individual comments are bitter. "Outrageous," is the term most frequently heard.

The directory just issued is in a much smaller form than over before, the names of subscribers in the Monongahela valley not being included.

Conservation Of Gas Urged At Convention

CINCINNATI, May 17.—The 2,000 delegates to the convention of the National Gas Association of America gathered today when a miniature gas derrick, erected on the steps of Music hall, began to operate when President Harding pressed a button at the White House. Another pressure of the button by the President set an electric fan in operation and the breeze from it waved a flag which was set in a horseshoe of flowers.

The feature of the opening session was an address by J. V. Brumbaugh, gas engineer for the United States Bureau of Mines.

"Natural gas is an ideal fuel," he said, "and it is the height of folly to allow it to be wasted by inefficient people to waste a natural product which is so useful and is disappearing so rapidly."

He urged conservation through changes made in gas appliances which he described to the delegates.

George Burford's Bond of $7,500 Is Ordered Forfeited

The largest bond forfeiture in the history of the Fayette county criminal courts was ordered this morning in the case of George Burford of Uniontown who is under bail for his appearance in Uniontown to answer to charges growing out of an attack by himself and Lawrence Kallon on Nellie Frankenherry and Lillian Katz, Uniontown high school girls. The amount specified in the bond was $7,500.

It was signed by Burford's father, Isaac H. Burford, coal operator, and Mrs. Pearl Tedrick, Burford's mother-in-law.

Burford is believed to have gone to England where he is said to have relatives.

The court had ordered that the defendant be produced within three weeks or the bond forfeited. The time had expired when the court made the order for forfeiture.

Burford is in jail, having failed to secure bail.

NEW DOG LAW GIVES STATE LICENSE FEES INSTEAD OF COUNTIES

County Commissioners Are Relieved of Enforcement of Law.

MORE MONEY TO OFFICERS

For Killing and Disposing of Unlicensed Dogs and Detaining Licensed Dogs Running at Large; Judges of Peace Can Issue Permits.

By the approval of Governor Sprout of the new dog license bill, which repeals the dog law of 1917, and places the supervision of the licensing of dogs in the hands of the State Department of Agriculture, the fees derived therefrom will be diverted from the counties to the state. If the collections from this source equal those of last year Fayette county will sustain a loss of $4,810 in revenue; Westmoreland, $7,240; Washington, $8,702 and other counties in proportion.

The new act provides for a uniform dog license fee of $1 for male dogs and $2 for female dogs, with an additional fee of 10 cents to go to the county treasurer for issuing the license. In addition the act provides that assessors shall be paid five cents a name for the enumeration of dog owners in their districts. The licenses will be issued by county treasurers, although the tags and license blanks will be furnished by the secretary of agriculture, and will bear the name of the county for which issued.

Provision is made for justices of the peace, aldermen, magistrates and notaries public to issue licenses through arrangement with county treasurers. The treasurers on the first Monday of each month will remit the fees collected to the state treasurer, and the money is to be placed in a special fund for the use of the secretary of Agriculture for carrying out the provisions of the law.

A constable is to receive $2 for killing and disposing of an unlicensed dog, instead of $1 under the 1917 act, and will also receive $2 for the seizure and detention of a licensed dog found running at large in violation of the act.

In determining damages done to sheep, livestock and poultry by dogs the claimant will appeal to the township auditor, justice of the peace, alderman or magistrate, who will ascertain the location of such damage, the owner of the dog and notify the secretary of agriculture, who will set a time for hearing to determine the amount of damages to be paid. The act in other details is like the 1917 law, except that it relieves county commissioners of its enforcement.

FAYETTE FIELD WILL BE FASTEST IN ITS CAREER WHEN WORK IS COMPLETED

Infield and Outergardens Have Been Scraped; Steam Roller Will Be Used.

PRACTICE GAME FRIDAY

Fayette Field, the stronghold of the local Independents, scene of many closely contested baseball games in the past and undoubtedly where many more hotly fought games will be played during this year, will be a revelation to the many ball fans who will go to witness the games this season. The Connellsville Baseball club has had a contractor at work on the field for almost a week and the results of the labor shows gratifying results.

It is the intention of the club to make the famous old park one of the best baseball fields in this section of the state. To do this is no mean task. Every bit of the big field is being scraped and leveled, not alone the infield but also the far outer gardens. Should a ball be batted to the outfield it will be plainly visible to everyone from around the home plate, as there are no longer any gullies or holes in to which the ball can roll. After the stones are picked from the field the grounds will be thoroughly sprinkled and a big steam roller will be put on it.

Next in line will be the completion of the grandstand. The stands will be ready by Friday night. On that evening, whether the stands are completed or not, Field Manager Hauser will have a number of recruits out to give them the "once over" in a practice game to be played.

Everyone is welcome to come out Friday night and look over the new stand and also to inspect the field. No admission will be charged at this game.

Three More Teams Join City Church Baseball League

Announcement made at a meeting of representatives of the church league, held at the Y. M. C. A. last night, was to the effect that the opening game will be played at Fayette Field, Thursday, June 2. What teams will participate was not stated. The schedule committee will report later.

The teams have accepted the proposition of the "Y" to furnish all equipment provided the members of the teams take out memberships in the institution.

Three more churches last night signified their intention of entering the league. They are the Christian, Evangelical and Methodist Protestant. The schedule committee is working on a basis of playing three games a week, Monday, Thursday and Friday being suggested. If eight teams are in the league it will be necessary to play four nights each week.

Five more days till the opener. Members of Mr. Osborn's class and the C. I. C. class of the First Presbyterian church held a baseball practice in Sixty Acres, South Side, last night. A game between these two teams is to be played there Friday night.

The P. A. K. team of Everson will play the Davidson baseball nine at the car shop grounds at Everson on Saturday, May 21, at 3:30 o'clock.

It's time now for fans to start buying the booster tickets being sold by the firemen. Those desiring to help out the team financially are not limited to one ticket.

Trotter plays at Phillips today. The lumber for the grandstand at Fayette Field is on the ground. With proper support the city will have a real ball season this year.

The firemen are going to make an extra hard drive the remainder of the week in an effort to sell a "gob" of booster tickets.

After the church league begins to operate, Fayette Field will be the scene of a ball game almost every day in the week.

The Young Valley Independents will play Leisenring No. 1 at Leisenring on Wednesday and the Connellsville Independents on the Y. M. C. A. grounds at Dickerson Run on Saturday.

TROTTER BEATS LEISENRING NO. 2 IN CLOSE GAME

Trotter cut short a last inning rally yesterday and won over Leisenring No. 2 by a one point margin. The score was 6-5. The game was played at Trotter and the visitors started out with a ruck that looked as though the home aggregation was doomed to annihilation. Three runs were made in the first inning off Smitkey and Trotter did not get a man across the rubber until the third.

In that frame the batters held a slug-fest and before the side was retired the team was in the lead, with four runs. Trotter added another in the fifth and one in the eighth and although Leisenring scored in both the eighth and ninth, one tally for tying the count was lacking.

MORE STANDS FOR BADGERS

The seating capacity of the University stadium at Camp Randall will be increased to 25,000 before the opening of the football season by the erection of a $40,000 concrete stand with 4,000 seats. Lockers and training quarters will be provided under the stand.

The Tulsa club, which has secured Phil Todd from the St. Louis Browns, plans to play the sensational Mound City youngster in the outfield.

SOTHORON IS GIVEN NEW LEASE ON LIFE

Without Spittball Brown Pitcher Was Failure.

Regain of Confidence Makes St. Louis Tosses Think That Former Skill Has Returned—Held Cardinals to Four Hits.

Allan Sothoron, Brown pitcher, is blooming again. He's got his spittball and his old confidence back. Giving spittballs a continued lease on life meant more to Sothoron possibly than to any other of the 10 major league pitchers now qualified to use the most delivery. Without the spittball Sothoron was a failure.

He was started against the Cleveland Indians in the opener last year without his spittball. They peppered him off the hill. Later in the season he was reinstated as eligible to throw the wet ball, but he made a poor comeback. That one game turned him from a winning pitcher into a loser.

His pitching average for 1930 was .324 as against .328 for the year before, when he used his pet delivery all season.

"When Cleveland beat me in that game I got the idea in my head that I wasn't there as a pitcher without a spittball," says Sothoron. "I had depended upon it too much. The spittball isn't the only ball I throw, but it has been my system."

"After that disastrous game with the Indians I couldn't regain my old confidence, even after they gave me my spittball back. Confidence is a thing that any winning pitcher must have."

"A pitcher might have a fastaway as good as Mathewson's, the speed of Walter Johnson and the control of Babe Adams, but unless he thinks he can master the batter who face him he is helpless. I'm going to be all right again this year."

The fact that Sothoron held the Cardinals to four hits and beat them in an exhibition game indicates he is his old self.

With the apparent comeback of Sothoron the Browns' pennant chances are looking up.

Slate Output in 1920 Had Greatest Value in History

The value of the slate sold by quarries in 1920 according to figures compiled by A. L. Coen, of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, was $5,726,412, the largest value yet recorded for this material. This value, however, does not indicate any decided revival in the slate industry as a whole for the quantity of roofing slate sold 391,210 squares was only eight per cent more in 1921 than the year of the lowest recorded sales, 167,857 squares, and more than 72 per cent less than in 1902, the year of the largest recorded sale, 1,110,168 squares. The average value per square between was $7.35 in 1921, $8.16 in 1902 and $8.90 in 1920.

The total quantity of mill stock sold in 1920 was approximately 910,000 squares, or an increase of 33 per cent over the quantity sold in 1919, but 21 per cent less than that sold in 1913, the record year. The total value of the mill stock sold was $1,147,281, a gain of 77 per cent over the value of that sold in 1919.

HARDING MAKING GOOD AS HEAD OF THE GOVERNMENT

Good Nature and Quiet Determination Felt in Relations with Congress.

IS CUTTING OUT WASTE

WASHINGTON, May 17.—President Harding is making good.

This is the unanimous verdict of Washington. Members of Congress and executive officials on the whole are in praise of an administration which has gone ahead without blunders and has functioned with the ease of a well-oiled machine.

Before the Republican convention last June the party was rent with the temporary disunion of a great contest for the presidency. When Warren G. Harding was nominated those leaders who had been opposed to him awaited with confidence the impression he would make upon the country. They were not disappointed. He conducted himself during the campaign without an error. After the inauguration the Democrats expressed the hope that serious mistakes would be made, that the large majorities in the House and Senate would be unwieldy, and that patronage would cause dissension. But two months have passed without mistakes, with a unity in purpose in doing away with the maladministration of the Wilson regime, and with a slow parcelling out of the larger offices on a basis of efficiency alone. The result is that the Democrats are even more despondent than immediately after the election, for then they were merely defeated, and now they are without immediate hope of restoration.

The salutary change of administration is noticed especially in the attitude of the President toward Congress. Mr. Wilson was arrogantly disposed, brooked no opposition and could gain no concessions from an opposition determined upon the maintenance of the firmest Americanism. Mr. Harding maintains the dignity and independence of the chief executive office in the land, but does it with a harmonious and friendly relationship with Congress, based upon mutual approachability, which heightens the effect of a rule of reason rather than of unreason. Mr. Wilson kept the gates of the White House locked two years after the war. Mr. Harding unlocked them and the crowds have daily gained admittance. Alliances with Europe have gone by the board. Uncle Sam is asserting his own rights rather than yield them to an abstraction of international amity. Extravagance and waste have ceased. Commerce is being stimulated without crippling business, after a serious financial depression brought on during the last two years of the Wilson administration. Soundness and intelligence reign in all the departments. And the President's unflinching good nature and quiet determination of character are accepted as the reliance of the nation.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Conquered or Money Back

For 40 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing Marshroot for kidney and bladder troubles and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the money back if dissatisfied plan.

Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health. Watch the symptoms. If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffy eyes, cloudy or moist palms, backache or headache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshroot right away.

It has wonderfully benefited tens of thousands of cases of kidney and bladder troubles and is the medicine you can always depend upon. Results are guaranteed.

Note.—Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his prescription, Marshroot, has cured thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription at Connellsville Drug Co., C. H. Hotal, and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Marshroot, prescription No. 777. No other medicine can take its place.—Adv.

CAN'T DO THE WORK

It's too much to try to work every day against a constant, dull backache, or sudden darting pain in the small of the back. Be rid of it. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Your neighbors recommend them. Ask your neighbor.

Mrs. C. A. Knight, 408 East Gibson street, Connellsville, says: "For many years I was almost crippled up with my back and couldn't find a medicine to help me. The pains in my back seemed to burn like fire and I rapidly lost strength and became weak and tired. I could hardly get about the house to do my work. I had dizzy spells, severe headaches and blurred eye-sight. Colds quickly settled in my kidneys and I was simply miserable. I found a cure for it when I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. Two boxes made a well woman of me and I have been entirely free from kidney trouble now for a year." (Statement given March 16, 1914.)

On August 9, 1919, Mrs. Knight added: "Doan's Kidney Pills still give fine results whenever I feel a need for a kidney medicine. My opinion of this fine medicine will always be the same."
